

ACTING in ENGLISH, ACCENT REDUCTION & AUDITION PREP with LUIS CAÑETE

Casting has gone global! This means that directors, producers and casting directors are on the search for international talent for their film and Tv projects more and more. It is essential for actors to speak clearly and be comfortable with self tapes and cold readings along with breaking the language barriers when acting in a foreign language. This two-day workshop covers all the foundational aspects of a good audition prep, cold readings and accent reduction to make you stand out on the global stage. Please note that this course will be taught completely in English.
